Brief report of the Activity	The Department of History Conducted a Quit India Movement on 09-08-2021 at Government Degree College Rayachoty. The Quit India Movement was a movement launched at the Bombay session of the All India Congress Committee by Mahatma Gandhi on 8 August 1942, during World War II, demanding an end to British rule in India. After the British failed to secure Indian support for the British war effort with the Cripps Mission, Gandhi made a call to Do or Die in his Quit India speech delivered in Bombay on 8 August 1942 at the Gowalia Tank Maidan. Viceroy Linlithgow remarked the movement to be "by far the most serious rebellion since 1857. The All India Congress Committee launched a mass protest demanding what Gandhi called "An Orderly British Withdrawal" from India. Even though it was at war, Britain was prepared to act. Almost the entire leadership of the Indian National Congress was imprisoned without trial within hours of Gandhi's speech. Most spent the rest of the war in prison and out of contact with the masses. The British had the support of the Viceroy's Council, of the All India Muslim League, the Hindu Mahasabha, the princely states, the Indian Imperial Police, the British Indian Army, and the Indian Civil Service. Many Indian businessmen profiting from heavy wartime spending did not support the Quit India Movement. The major outside support came from the Americans, as President Franklin D. Roosevelt pressured Prime Minister Winston Churchill to give in to some of the Indian demands.

A Brief Report	International Human Rights Day is celebrated annually around the world on 10 December every year. The date was chosen to honor the United Nations General Assembly's adoption and proclamation, on 10 December 1948, of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), the first global enunciation of human rights and one of the first major achievements of the new United Nations. The formal establishment of Human Rights Day occurred at the 317th Plenary Meeting of the General Assembly on 4 December 1950, when the General Assembly declared resolution 423(V), inviting all member states and any other interested organizations to celebrate the day as they saw fit. The day is normally marked both by high-level political conferences and meetings and by cultural events and exhibitions dealing with human rights issues. Besides, it is traditionally on 10 December that the five-yearly United Nations Prize in the Field of Human Rights and Nobel Peace Prize are awarded.

The formal inception of Human Rights Day dates from 1950, after the Assembly passed resolution 423(V) inviting all States and interested organizations to adopt 10 December of each year as Human Rights Day.^[4] The popularity of the day can be shown by the fact that the commemorative Human Rights Day stamp issued by the United Nations Postal Administration in 1952, received approximately 200,000 advance orders.

A 1963 postage stamp from Soviet Union, commemorating the 15th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights

When the General Assembly adopted the Declaration, with 48 states in favor and eight abstentions, it was proclaimed as a "common standard of achievement for all peoples and all nations", towards which individuals and societies should "strive by progressive measures, national and international, to secure their universal and effective recognition and observance". The measure was received by both advocates and critics alike as "being more declarative than legislative, more suggestive than binding."^[6]

Although the Declaration with its broad range of political, civil, economic, social and cultural rights is not a binding document, it inspired more than 60 human rights instruments which together constitute an international standard of human rights. Today the general consent of all United Nations Member States on the basic Human Rights laid down in the Declaration makes it even stronger and emphasizes the relevance of Human Rights in our daily lives

The High Commissioner for Human Rights, as the main United Nations rights official and his Office plays a major role in coordinating efforts for the yearly observation of Human Rights Day:

The 60th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights occurred on 10 December 2008, and the UN Secretary-General launched a year-long campaign leading up to this anniversary. Because the UDHR holds the world record as the most translated document (except for the Bible), organizations around the globe used the year to focus on helping people everywhere learn about their rights.

In his role as the chief guest, In-charge Principal Munya Naik emphasized the significance of blood donation, stating that each donation has the potential to save someone's life. This sentiment was echoed by College Lecturer Kiran Kumar, who highlighted the health benefits of donating blood at least once a year. Kumar explained that this practice can help prevent heart attacks and blood vessel blockages by improving blood circulation and increasing iron levels in the body.Further emphasizing the importance of blood donation, Program Coordinator Dr. B Venkatarao underscored its utility in various medical conditions. He pointed out its benefits for individuals with thalassemia, anemia, victims of accidents, and pregnant women. Dr. Venkatarao also shed light on the significance of Type O blood group, often referred to as the universal donor. This blood type lacks both A and B surface antigens on red blood cells, making it compatible with a wider range of recipients. Antigens are proteins capable of triggering allergic responses in individuals lacking those specific antigens in their system. Therefore, Type O blood holds immense value in emergency situations and medical treatments where matching blood types swiftly is crucial.

Release of ECI publication

An ECI publication titled ‘Leap of Faith: Journey of Indian Elections’ will be released on National Voters Day 2022. The book narrates the history of India's electoral journey and the growth of representative and electoral principles in India, from the 19th to the 21st century. The book contextualises the role of elections in making of modern India.

The ECI will also release another book titled ‘Pledging to Vote – A decadal Journey of The National Voters Day in India’ on the occasion. The book narrates the journey of National Voters’ Day celebrations by ECI from the Diamond Jubilee celebration onwards and is dedicated to the voters of the country.

A national voter awareness contest will also be launched on social media with the tagline ‘My Vote is my Future- Power of One Vote’. The contest will aim to reiterate the importance of every vote through creative expression for the ongoing Assembly Elections 2022. It will be open to all and will include several categories like Song, Slogan, Quiz, Video Making and Poster Design. The event carries exciting cash prizes and accolades.

National Voters Day History

National Voters Day is celebrated every year on January 25 since 2011. It aims to commemorate the day the ECI was founded, which is January 25, 1950.

The National Voters Day began as an initiative by the Election Commission of India. A Union Council of Ministers meeting had taken place under the then PM Dr. Manmohan Singh and it was noticed that young people who had attained the age of 18 years and above were reluctant to register themselves as voters.

This paved the way for the founding of the National Voters’ Day to identify such youth and enroll them in the electoral process and provide them with their Electoral Photo Identity Card (EPIC).

INTRODUCTION:

NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME popularly known as NSS was launched in Gandhi's Birth Centenary Year 1969, under the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports Govt. of India. The scheme was launched simultaneously in 37 Universities involving 45,000 students with primary focus on the development of personality of students through community service and promotion of National solidarity. In India, the idea of involving students in the task of national service dates back to the times of Mahatma Gandhi, the father of the nation. The central theme which he tried to impress upon his student audience time and again was that they should always keep before them, their social responsibility. The first duty of the students should be, not to treat their period of study as one of the opportunities for indulgence in intellectual luxury, but for preparing themselves for final dedication in the service of those who provided the sinews of the nation with the national goods & services so essential to society. Advising them to form a living contact with the community in whose midst their institution is located, he suggested that instead of undertaking academic research about economic and social disability, the students should do "something positive so that the life of the villagers might be raised to a higher material and moral level". NSS works on the premise that it is possible to awaken the villagers and slum dwellers to their responsibilities and develop in them the confidence, to tackle their common problems with energy, enthusiasm and in a co-operative spirit, based on mutual aid and self-reliance. The role of students is limited as activists, enablers, catalytic agents with wider communities and as programme aids. The main objectives of National Service Scheme (NSS) are:

- Understand the community in which they work.
- Understand themselves in relation to their community.
- Identify the needs and problems of the community and involve them in problem solving.
- Develop among themselves a sense of social and civic responsibility.
- Utilize their knowledge in finding practical solutions to individual and community problems.
- Develop competence required for group-living and sharing of responsibilities.
- Gain skills in mobilizing community participation.
- Acquire leadership qualities and democratic attitudes.
- Develop capacity to meet emergencies and natural disasters and
- Practice national integration and social harmony.

MOTO OF NSS "NOT ME, BUT YOU" reflects the essence of democratic living and upholds the need for selfless service and appreciation of the other person's point of view and also to show consideration for fellow human beings. It underlines that the welfare of an individual is ultimately dependent on the welfare of society on the whole. Therefore, it should be the aim of the NSS to demonstrate this motto in its day-to-day programme.

NSS SPECIAL CAMP: Special Camping forms an integral part of National Service Scheme. It has special appeal to the youth as it provides unique opportunities to the students for group living, collective experiencesharing and constant interaction with community.

The aim of the NSS special camp is to educate the people and empower them. With this motto, the NSS UNIT comprising 50 students has organized a special camp at Yarraguntla Village, Sambapalli Mandal near Rayachoty of YSR district. The camp has been conducted under the supervision of college management and NSS program officer K. Gurrapa. The NSS team members divided among themselves into 5 groups and conducted a 7 days special camp in the Yarraguntla Village.
